REVIVAL OF GREEK DRAMA

NEW FEATURES INTRODUCED IN FORTHCOMING LOMALAND PRODUCTION

Katherine Tingley announces that "The Eumenides"—ancient Greek mstery drama of Aeschylus, will be again repeated at the open air Greek theater, Theosophical university, Point Loma, Friday evening, September 16. It will be open to the public, and a large number of complimentary invitations have been accepted by members of the California Bar association which will be in session at Hotel del Coronado, Sepetmber 15, 16 and 17.

In the forthcoming producetion of "The Eumenides" Katherine Tingley is introducing some new features of dramatic art never before given—notably in the mystical scene where the furies are transformed from the dark creatures of night and vengenance into the radiant "Eumenides"—gracious daughters of light and joy symbolizinz in an intensely dramatic way, the quality of human nature, which is one of the cardinal tenets of the ancient wisdom—Theosophy.

The fame of the Lomaland productions has spread to other countries. Among the many reports that have been published in different parts of the world the following quotation from an article entitled "The Drama as Teacher," written by Fredrick Behrens, who was for twenty-four years on the staff of the "Liverpool Daily Post and Mercury," is a sample:

"The mind of the writer travels across the Atlantic ocean to the land of sunshine, California. There, at Point Loma, the headquarters of the Theosophical society, is situated an open air Greek theater, where, under the guiding genius of Katherine Tingley, the leader of the society, the plays of Shakespeare and the old Greek dramatists are performed. These performances have been acclaimed by the leading American critics to be perfect expressions of art at its very highest. A notable feature has been the beautiful diction of the players—all of them students at Point Loma. The secret, if secret it be, of the Point Loma players' wonderful success is to be found in the fact that they are inspired spiritually by a great love for humanity—in other words, they stand for "Co-operation and the Universal Brotherhood of Man!"

Mme. Tingley also announces that she has now under consideration for early presentation one of the choicest dramas of Goethe and another of Shelley, both of which can be admirably adapted to the beautiful setting of the Lomaland Greek theater.

The proceeds of this performance will be devoted to the humanitarian activities of the International Brotherhood league, a department of the organization over which Mme. Tingley presides. Tickets and information may be obtained at Theosophical Bookstore, 1269 Fourth street, San Diega, at Thearle Music Co., and next week at Hotel del Coronado. Teachers and their pupils will be admitted at half price.

Human Speech Calls for Little Energy

Speech requires a small amount of energy, according to telephone engineers, who explain that if a million persons were to talk steadily, and the energy of their voices were to be converted into heat, they would have to talk for an hour and a half to produce sufficient heat to make a cupful of tea.

One acoustic expert has divided the English speech into 36 letter sounds, and he found that the vowels carry most of the energy. It is estimated that at the upper and lower limits of hearing it takes a million times as much energy to make sound audible as in the range of 1,000 to 5,000 cycles, where the ear is most sensitive.

On the radio the sounds "th," "f," "s" and "v" are the most difficult to hear correctly. This is attributed chiefly to their very weak energy.—Scentific American.

The First Doll's House

What may prove to be the earliest British doll's house has been discovered in an old country house in Chelmsford. It is a two-storied house about five feet high, built of solid oak, and contains four large rooms, attics and a balcony on top. The legs on which the house is mounted and the paneling and the mirrors, are, it is said of definite Queen Anne design and workmanship.

Luminous House Numbers

A luminous number which can be seen from a distance at night has been put up on the town hall at Budapest, writes the correspondent of the London Observer, and the authorities are considering the advisability of putting luminous numbers on all houses in the city, and luminous plaques at the street corners on which the street names may be easily read after dark.

It is claimed that Budapest is the first city to consider this method of obviating this difficulty.

"Upon a crutch—her girlish face
Alight with love and tender grace—
Laughing she limps from place to place
Upon a crutch.
And you and I who journey through
A rose leaf world of dawn and dew,
We cry to heaven overmuch;
We rail and frown at fate, while she
And many more in agony
Are brave and patient, strong and true
Upon a crutch."

TASTY FOODS

If convenient for one to keep a bowl of fruit gelatin always at hand in the ice chest, there may be a quick dessert or salad prepared in a short time. The pineapple juice poured from the can when it is used for various dishes is thickened with gelatin by using half the amount of hot water and the rest the fruit juice. Lemon or orange, either flavor, is especially good with pineapple flavor. If a dessert is required, prepare a rich custard, chill and serve with the fruit gelatin. If a salad, take a tablespoonful or two of the gelatin cut into cubes, add a diced apple, a few dates and a half cupful of celery with a good salad dressing, and the salad is made.

Apple Custard.—Take five well-beaten eggs, add one quart of milk and one pint of strained apple sauce. Sweeten and add such flavor as the taste demands and bake carefully in a moderate oven until firm. Set the pan of custard in a dish of hot water to bake.

Curried Salmon.—Chop a small onion fine and fry until brown in a tablespoonful of butter. Mix together one tablespoonful each of curry powder and flour, add to the butter and onion, add slowly one cupful of hot water, stirring briskly. Cook until the sauce is well done, then add one cupful of flaked salmon. Serve with cooked rice.

Curried Lamb.—Fry one small onion in three tablespoonfuls of butter; when the onion is light brown add two tablespoonfuls each of curry powder and flour; cook with two cupfuls of stock for five minutes. Season with salt and pepper and strain over thinly sliced cold roast of lamb. Serve in a deep platter with a border of hot rice well seasoned.

Delectable Chicken.

Chicken is one of the meats that is a favorite with people the world over and when well cooked is always popular. Try cooking a pair of young chickens in the following manner:

Country Style.—Cut into serving-sized pieces as many young frys as will be needed. Roll in seasoned flour and brown in a mixture of butter and lard in a deep iron kettle or frying pan; when well browned cover and let cook on the back of the range or in the oven until thoroughly done. Meat separates easily from the bones when well cooked. There is nothing less palatable than half cooked chicken, or more appetizing when well cooked. Remove the chicken to a hot platter and make a brown gravy from the flour and butter in the pan. Add cream or milk for the liquid. In the country the gravy is poured over the chicken and served with it. Another method when the gravy is to be served over the chicken and makes it still more delicious, is to prepare the gravy after the chicken is browned, then return it to the gravy and cover, and finish cooking slowly for as long as needed to be thoroughly done.

Molded or jellied chicken and other meats are liked.

Chicken Curry.—Singe and cut the chicken at the joints into pieces for serving. Cover with boiling water, add two teaspoonfuls of salt and a few dashes of pepper. Simmer for half an hour, or longer if not tender, then drain, dredge with seasoned flour and brown lightly in butter. Fry one large onion in the same fat, mix one tablespoonful of flour, one teaspoonful of sugar, and one tablespoonful of curry powder, and brown. Add one cupful of water or stock, one cupful of tomato or one sour apple chopped, with salt and pepper to taste. Pour this sauce over the chicken and simmer until tender. Add one cupful of hot cream and serve with boiled rice.

Jellied Chicken.—Bring to the boiling point two cupfuls of chicken stock from which the fat has been removed, add to it one tablespoonful of gelatin which has been soaked in four tablespoonfuls of water. Press into a mold four cupfuls of seasoned chicken, pour over the stock, put under a weight and chill until firm. Any other meat may be served in the same way.

Maryland Chicken.—Dress and cut up a chicken, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dip into flour, egg and crumbs, place in a well buttered dripping pan and bake in a hot oven, basting with one-third of a cupful of butter. Arrange on a platter and pour over two cupfuls of cream sauce.

SATIN FROCKS FOR AUTUMN; COLORFUL VELVET CHAPEAUX

NOT in fashion's realm will "silver and gold have I none" be voiced, for early arriving autumn frocks gleam with touches of not only gold and silver, but of copper, steel, brass and, yes, tin if you please. It is a fact, some genius has devised an extremely novel trimming which accomplishes a handsome effect by riveting bits of tin over multi-colored strands of silk.

Autumn's style horoscope is proclaiming the metal vogue in no uncertain terms. Imagine such a frock as this, and it is, to say the least, "perfectly stunning"—black satin one-piece model studded all over with steel nailheads which are riveted into the very fabric. At the proper waistline a belt is simulated by working in gold metal nailheads, in solid form. The effect is thrilling, and presents a season of fascinating revelations in the way of metallic embellishment.

Adorned With Metal Embroidery.

The picture shows the enlivening effect of metal embroidery on black satin. Seems as if black crepe satin frocks are crowding the style stage in numbers greater than ever. A surprising quota gleam with unique and exceedingly handsome touches of metal, after the manner of this illustration.

Dressy afternoon ensembles of black velvet are also written in the book of fashion—and their appearance will not be deferred until late fall, for nowadays velvet is so sheer and supple it lays claim to being an all-year-round fabric. Owing to its suppleness velvet is indulging in any amount of shirring. Often the skirt fullness is accomplished in this way. In harmony with the trend toward metal decoration, the blouse, preferably of white or flesh georgette, is embroidered in gold and silver paillettes.

There is also a discreet use of metal on many a simple cloth frock, such as a few nailheads on cuffs and collar or an outlining of metal clasps on hem edges.

Velvet is apparently going to have a marked influence on the new season's millinery. Even now women of smart fashion are choosing cunning velvet models for midseason wear.

At last, judging from the "advance guard" of millinery for fall, we are going to have some hats that are really different, so that when we go strolling down the street we are not going to have the feeling that every other hat we come face to face with is first cousin to the one we have on. In other words fashion is doing little tricks of decoration here and there that are making millinery decidedly more feminine and taking it out of the realm of monotony.

Interesting variety is achieved in a number of different ways. Just take a look at the upper left hat which comes from the studios of the famous French creator, Madame Agnes. She deftly takes two strips of harmonizing velvet in the colors of wild rose and sistine, cuts them with large sawtooth edges which just match when sewn together; and then shirrs these joinings so that when pressed down they give the exact effect of crushed roses.

Then the hat in the center introduces a new idea which comes from the clever fingers of Eliane. This is of "buccaneer" red velvet which is very finely stitched in unique diamond and diagonal patterns.

In the hat at the upper right Eliane gives us a sample of entirely different type of stitching and shirring in a hat which is more formal and made of silk velvet in the color called "Mother Goose." The unique shirring effect is carried on to the crown tip; and as this hat is worn well down on the neck and tipped back, it gives a very interesting effect.

Madame Georgette gives a touch of something different again in the hat at the lower left, which is along cloche lines of black velvet with an applique design of white appearing al' over it and worked under the softly folded portions.

At the lower right Germaine-Page introduces a decorative note on a cloche of navy-blue velvet with a ceinture of camelias of glacier-blue velvet which are held down flat with a tiny nose-veil of double coarse mesh.

Some Midseason Hats.

BEAUTIFUL WORK OF ART

A handsome souvenir album of "The Eumenides" has been received by "The Beach News." The album contains, among other interesting things, twenty beautiful half-tone engravings of scenes from the famous ancient Greek mystery drama, with individual photographs of Athena, Apollo, Orestes, the Pythian Prophetess, and the Ghost of Clytemnestra; besides pictures of Aeschylus, and of ancient Greek theaters; several views of the Greek theatre at Point Loma, erected by Katherine Tingley in 1901—the first in America, and declared by competent critics the most beautiful open-air Greek theatre in the world. The album is splendidly printed at the Aryan Theosophical Press, Point Loma, Calif.

New CALIFORNIA THEATER

A celluloid circus is coming to town!

"The Life of Riley," starring Charlie Murray and George Sidney, the fourth big screen attraction of West Coast Greater Movie Season, will open Friday at the New California theatre.

George Sidney is chief of police and Charlie Murray, fire chief, of a small community in this comedy uses a circus as one of its many colorful backgrounds. Of course there are fires for the fire department and police calls for the police department to promise continuous comedy action.

Myrtle Stedman plays the Widow Jones, Sam Hardy furnishes the villainry and June Marlowe and Stephen Carr supply love's young dream. Wm. Beaudine wielded the megaphone for First National Pictures.

The New California theatre program this week, starting Friday, also includes West Coast Greater Movie Season Events by International Newsreel and Fanchon and Marco's colorful revue, "Idea Parisian," featuring a notable cast of players in addition to 20 beautiful artists models, the atmosphere of the production is centered in a French studio, with the entertainment and specialties a part of the famous Latin Quarter soire.

Milt Franklyn and his band will be featured in an overture, and also the inspiration for the theme song and dance numbers for Fanchon and Marco's "Idea" Parisian.

52 Billion Loaves in U. S. Wheat

ENOUGH wheat will be produced in the United States this year to make 52,018,000,000 loaves of bread, according to the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. The latest official estimates indicate that 839,000,000 bushels of wheat will be produced this year, and it is figured that 62 one-pound loaves of bread can be obtained from every bushel of wheat. Of the total estimated output 626,000,000 bushels were produced by winter wheat growers and 212,000,000 bushels by spring wheat growers in the Northwest. Last year the winter wheat production was 396,000,000 bushels and spring wheat 271,000,000. The present crop is above the five-year average of 802,000,000 bushels. The acreage devoted to the crop this year is put at 57,584,000 and the latest estimates place the production at 14.6 bushels per acre, the Foundation states. Winter wheat will run over 17 bushels per acre and spring wheat 10.2 per acre. Domestic needs are estimated at 640,000,000 bushels, so there will be more than 250,000,000 bushels for export. Prices are not as high as a year ago, but the crop probably will bring growers more than a billion dollars.

O. B. LIBRARY

MARGARET RANKIN, LIBRARIAN

The Ocean Beach Branch library had a record circulation in the month of August, when 7055 books went out. This was a gain of 1110 over August, 1926.

Few people realize the service to all ages and types of people which is given by the public library.

The slogan for the O. B. library has been, "Watch the O. B. Library grow," and it is living up to that motto.

The city owns the site for the future home of the library on the corner of Cable and Newport streets, and it is hoped to have a modern building and equipment in the not too distant future.

YOUNG WOMEN MAY KEEP WELL

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Here is Proof

St. Paul, Minn.—"Here is a little advice I would like to have you put in the papers," Mrs. Jack Lorberter of 704 Dellwood Place wrote to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company. "If young women want to keep their health and strength for the next thirty years of their lives, it is best to start in right now and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have tried the Compound myself and received fine results from its use." In describing her condition before taking the Compound, she writes, "I was afraid in my own house in broad daylight, I used to lock the doors and pull down the shades so that nobody could see me." One day a booklet advertising the Vegetable Compound was left on her porch and she read it through. In so doing, she found a letter from a woman whose condition was similar to her own. "I bought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Lorberter continued, "and have had fine results. My condition made me a burden to my husband. Now I ask him, "How is housekeeping?" and he says, "It is just like being in Heaven!" Are you on the Sunlit Road to Better Health?

WASTE

EMERSON wrote, "Economy is a sacrament when its aim is grand; when it is the prudence of simple tastes, when it is practiced for freedom, or love, or devotion. But parched corn eaten today, that I may have roast fowl for my dinner on Sunday, is a baseness; but parched corn and a house with an apartment, that I may be serene and docile to what the mind shall speak, to be ready for the lowest mission of knowledge and good will, is frugality for gods and heroes." Economy is one of nature's fundamental laws. Nothing is allowed to go to waste. The leaves of autumn only make more beautiful the budding trees of spring. Learning from nature, some persons have become rich by gathering up the fragments, others have become poor because they permitted them to be thrown away. By-products are the secrets of many fortunes. Refinings of gold make about one-fourth of the profits of business concerns using that article in their manufactured product. A fortune has been made out of the bouillon cube, made from by-products. The cast-off product of a cotton mill founded one of the largest fortunes in Europe. There is enough food going to waste in the hotels of any large city to feed the dependent poor of that city. In seven and a fraction of years a sum of money, if put out on compound interest, will double itself.

The most serious problem of waste, however, is not found in the world of material values, but rather in the realm of personality. The most tragic thing is a wasted life. "He whose heart is barren like the desert is always poor." Idle hours, opportunities thrown away, not being prepared when the chance came, explain some of life's failures. A wasted life is one that has made no contribution to the uplift of the community. When such a person "passes on" no one seriously misses him because from him radiated no moral or spiritual values. A negative life is a wasted life.

The problem in the field of economics is not production but adequate distribution. The wasted power in the Niagara falls would run all the machinery of the country if it could be controlled and directed. There is sufficient moral and spiritual power going to waste to solve all the problems of our social order.

Do You Know ...??... That: ...??...

"MIDAS TOUCH" is an expression denoting a means by which things are turned to gold or money.

The saying had its origin from a Greek myth. King Midas in return for an act of kindness had been promised by the god Dionysus that whatever he might ask would be granted him. Thereupon, King Midas, being very fond of gold, asked that everything he touched might turn to gold.

His request was granted and accordingly everything he touched turned to gold, even to the food set before him. Of course Midas soon saw the folly of his wish and beseeched the god to take back the favor. Dionysus again granted his wish and ordered Midas to bathe in the River Pactolus. This bath saved Midas but the river from that time on had an abundance of gold in its sands due to the touch of Midas.—Anna S. Turnquist.

Most of those ills we poor mortals know

SOME CABBAGE WAYS

THE common vegetables which are always on the market are often underrated. Cabbage is such a wholesome vegetable that it should be served often.

Cabbage With Sausage.

Cook a head of cabbage whole with several pork sausages or with half a dozen frankforts; arrange on a platter and garnish with the sausages. Season well with pepper, salt and a bit of onion while cooking. The liquor should be saved and used with the cabbage and chopped potatoes for another meal, as hash.

Lady Cabbage.

Shred tender, young cabbage and cook until done, seasoning with butter, cracker crumbs and enough milk to make a sauce. Serve hot.

Fried Cabbage.

Chop cold boiled cabbage and press out all the liquor. Season with melted butter, pepper, salt, and four tablespoonfuls of milk. Add two well-beaten eggs and cook in a hot frying pan, stirring often at first. Then let brown on the bottom and turn out on a hot platter. Garnish with sliced hard-cooked eggs.

Hot Slaw.

Beat the yolks of two eggs with two tablespoonfuls of cold water, add a tablespoonful of butter, a little salt, and one-fourth cupful of vinegar. Cook the dressing over hot water until thick, then stir in finely shredded cabbage; heat until hot and serve hot.

Stuffed Cabbage.

Cut out the stalk end of the cabbage, leaving a good-sized cavity. Tie up the cabbage in a cheese cloth and cook it until tender in boiling salted water. Make a stuffing of seasoned crumbs and any chopped fowl or meat which is well seasoned. Fill the drained cabbage, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and cheese and bake in a quick oven until brown.

Cabbage With Cheese Sauce.

Prepare and cook the cabbage as above. Place on a hot chop plate and cut into pie-shaped pieces. Pour over a thick white sauce made by melting four tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour and mixing well, then add a cupful and a half of good rich milk; season with salt and pepper and cook until smooth and thick, adding a half-cupful or more of chopped rich cheese to the sauce while cooking.

YOU CAN—AND WILL

By EVELYN GAGE BROWNE

DON'T listen when people tell you
"It simply can't be done!"
For somebody's bound to do it,
And YOU may be just that one.

There's nothing that man has thought of
But what some man can do—
And there's no earthly reason
Why that man isn't YOU.

When folks say—"No use trying!"
Just keep right on with a smile,
You won't need to do much talking
You'll show them after awhile.

There's nothing worth the having
That's going to be easy to get,
And whatever you strive for hardest
Gives you the most joy yet.

It can be done—and it will be!—
If it's ever been done, that's true,
And greater things wait for some one
To be the first to do.

Somebody's going to do them;
Some one who really tries,
Who believes in himself and his power,
To win the highest prize.

And YOU can be just that some one,
For the best is waiting still,
And there's nothing you can't accomplish,
When you say—"I CAN—AND WILL!"

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At 21—Montague Glass Tried to Be a Lawyer.

AT ABOUT this time I was in a law office and while there, because I had a boss who made frequent visits to a resort downstairs, I had the leisure to write a story called "Papagallo."

"Papagallo" cost me, and the law firm between us, several dollars in postage stamps and at last I disposed of it to a Canadian paper for a trifle less than the law firm and I spent on it. It was a fairly bad story, written after the manner of Edgar Allen Poe, with just a suggestion of Barrie.

Many years later I reprinted it in a magazine called "1910," a purely artistic effort fostered by Charles B. Falles. It had no editor and no publisher, only contributors who agreed to furnish a story, an article or a picture each month during the year 1910 and $10 towards the cost of printing the magazine. In May, 1910, I went to Italy and never definitely knew what became of "1910," which ceased publication while I was abroad, but I think I can tell what happened to it. It died of a story called "Papagallo." —Montague Glass.

TODAY—Montague Glass, as the creator of those national characters, "Potash and Perlmutter" is too well known to require an introduction from anyone. Potash and Perlmutter have been put into every conceivable form using words or action as a medium; in books, magazines, articles, dialogues, plays and "movies." Had he written nothing else, or intended to write nothing else in the future, Glass' bank account would be assured.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS
By H. IRVING KING

FOUR-LEAVED CLOVER

WHO is there that finding a four-leaved clover, does not regard it as an omen of good luck? Few people, if any. Some may pooh-pooh the idea and laugh scornfully thereat: but, nestled away down in the bottom of their hearts is a secret satisfaction over their "find."

In this we are but harking back to our sun-worshiping ancestors. Clover was one of the plants of magic power gathered at the summer solstice from European fields in the dim past, because at the summer solstice the sun, giver of life, having reached his greatest power, certain plants caught from him mystic properties which made them potent for baffling the evil things which threaten the life of man. Now if an ordinary clover caught something of the sun's mystic properties a four-leaved clover—which was unusual and therefore must mean something—was especially marked out as having caught an extra share.

In the Tyrol and in some parts of France the idea that the four-leaved clover, in order to be potent for luck, must be picked on midsummer eve, still persists; but English-speaking peoples have dropped that part of the superstition and regard it as an omen of good luck when found at any time. Naturally such a specially endowed plant was long considered as an infallible protection against witches.

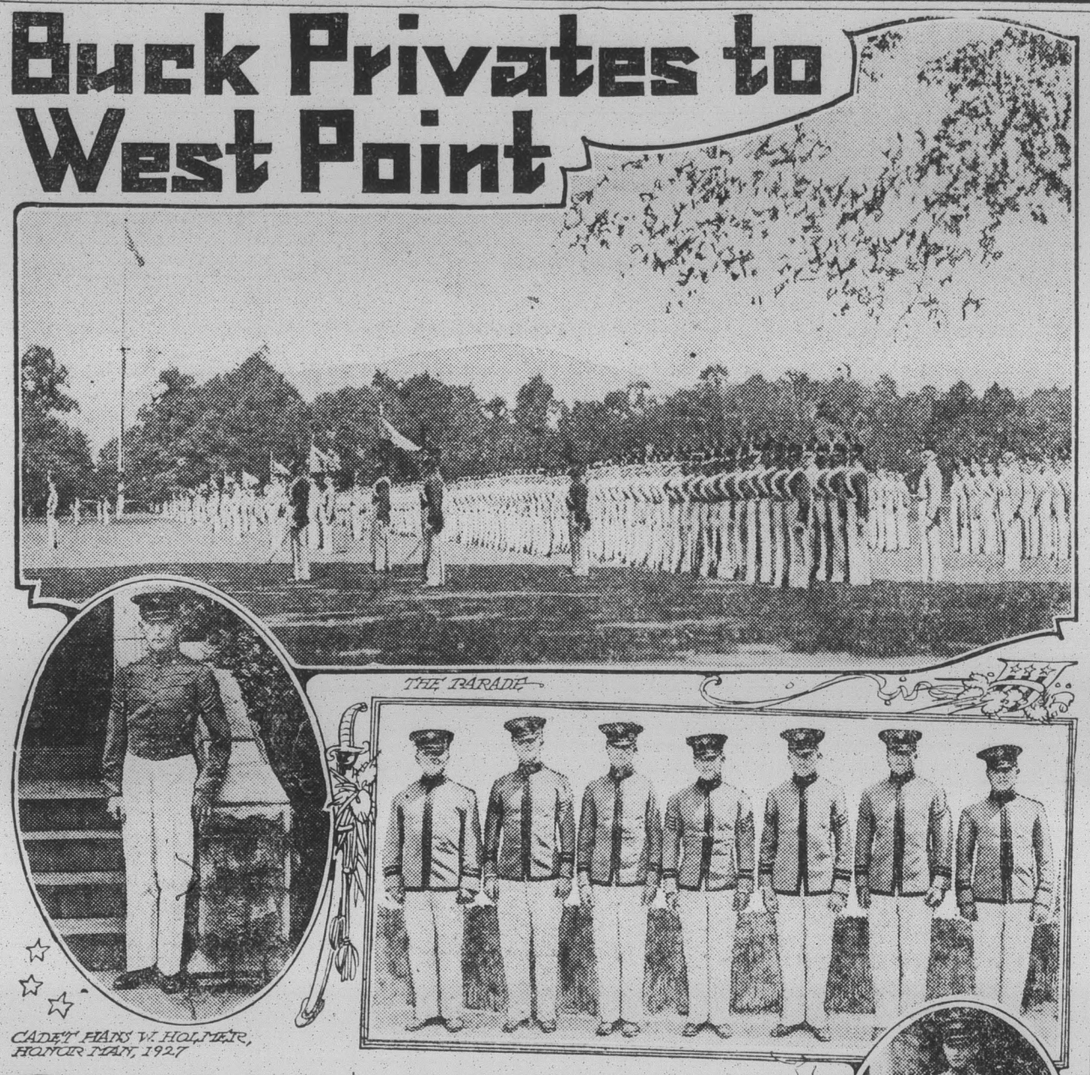
Buck Privates to West Point



THE PARADE

CADET HANS V. HOLMER, HONOR MAN, 1927

CADET HAROLD A. KURSTEDT, 2ND HIGHEST IN 1927

OPPORTUNITY still beckons the ambitious American youth.

True, farm boys don't become bank presidents with the same frequency nowadays as when Horatio Alger's fictional characters typified the struggling American youth. Yet the come-on hand of the lady known as Luck but whose real name is pluck still gestures for all who are alert to see.

Four years ago, seven clear-eyed, upstanding, straight-thinking young Americans caught her gesture.

Result: today the seven are embarked on the honorable career of army officers, duly commissioned by the President of the United States, after a four-year stretch of mental and moral upbuild designed to turn them out equipped to occupy, with credit, any position in life to which they may aspire.

Your Uncle Sam was the godfather.

It was the beloved gentleman with the plug hat, the striped trousers, and the starry vest, not Dame Fortune, who sponsored the ambitious seven.

All of which means just this—that the seven formed this year's contingent of former buck privates among the graduating class at West Point recently. Coming up from the ranks of the regular army, they qualified for admission to the military academy through annual examinations which are now open to all enlisted men of Uncle Sam's forces.

Real Democracy

Once a year the historic and unexcelled institution on the Hudson throws wide its doors and from out of the rank and file of soldiers enter such as have demonstrated their right to wear on their shoulders the insignia of leadership.

The son from the lean farm in Iowa and the pampered pride of the richest banker in Wall street are "buddies" under the skin. Such, at least, is the principle and practice at West Point. Democracy—not "Who are you?" but "What can you do?"

The list of young men who by reason of their perseverence and their determination to achieve now wear the Sam Browne belt and shining shoulder bars of an officer show that the ambition of Young America is as broad as her boundaries. Observe that none of them are former service men nor had they distinguished themselves in purely military events. All are men of a year's service or more who apparently enlisted in the army with the idea of competing for a West Point scholarship.

Cadet Lieut. Hans W. Holmer, twenty-six, of Medford, Ore., one of the seven, upset West Point tradition when he won the much-prized title of "Honor Man," making a total of 2,757.05 points out of a possible 2,975. The first regular army appointee ever to gain such distinction, he stood No. 1 in the class of 1927, consisting of 203 cadets. Cadet Harold A. Kurstedt of Weehawken, N. J., another of the seven, took second highest honors with a total of 2,744.60.

The remaining five ex-soldiers graduated also in relatively high positions. They were: Cadet John T. Holst of New Haven, Conn.; Cadet Cyril E. Williams of St. Catherines, Ontario; Cadet John R. Lovell of Ottumwa, Iowa; Cadet John A. Schwab of New York City, and Cadet Charlie Wesner of Green Lake, Wis.

In the rigorous training courses which give West Point rank with the finest military academies in the world, all seven of the regular army appointees acquitted themselves above average. Cadets Kurstedt and Schwab were cadet captains and Cadet Holmer a cadet lieutenant. Cadet Schwab was one of the best polo players in the Point.

An All 'Round Man

Cadet Holmer was rated as expert with both the automatic pistol and service rifle. As a member of the cadet wrestling team Cadet Kurstedt won his "A," while Cadet Lovell established an enviable record in athletics, playing on the football eleven for three seasons and on the boxing team four. Last year he was captain of the boxing team.

Besides these seven graduates there are 134 other cadets now at the academy who were appointed from the ranks of either the regular army or National Guard.

This high percentage of the membership of the corps of cadets has been attained by the regular army largely through the training extended to aspirants at West Point preparatory schools conducted throughout all departments of the army. By their aid this year, 95 soldiers were coached to take the final examinations for entrance to West Point this summer.

The men were entered in the preparatory schools after having satisfied certain elementary requirements at the camps and stations they were serving in. To attend youths must be between the ages of nineteen and twenty-two, have at least one year's service in the army, and possess the equivalent of a high school education.

Get Another Chance

To fail to qualify for the preparatory school at first need not mean the bursting of the young soldier's bubble of hope. On the contrary, failure has seemed merely to spur many of them on to further study and greater determination to make good. These men who rise from the ranks are moved by determination, persisteney and intelligence. Ofttimes the classes at the various West Point preparatory schools include men who have failed a second time before finally winning admission.

The soldier-students are quartered in regulation army barracks when attending preparatory school and under the usual soldier discipline with the exception that lights are allowed to burn as long as there is home work to be done. The curriculum includes all the necessary academic subjects and is drawn up for the sole purpose of preparing the students to meet the fairly rigid West Point entrance tests. The preparatory schools run from the fall months, throughout the winter, to April, when the final examinations are held.

But it is one thing to gain entrance to the United States military academy—and another to graduate. Some of the most promising youths from fine homes are "found," although carefully prepared prior to entering the academy at the leading educational institutions. Partly because of the high-notch of physical perfection and partly because of the strict drill and discipline, those without previous military training experience difficulty in keeping up with their classes. The ex-ranker, however, has in the few short years since his entrance to the academy was authorized by congress shown a distinct ability to excel in cadet activities.

An afternoon at the "Point."

The cadets are under canvass.

On the parade ground, squads of officer material are swinging into step, the formations that make of the army a vast, efficient machine hitting on all 12 cylinders.

Commands ring out.

"Make it snappy," is the big idea.

Squads, Squads, Squads!

Squads with guns, squads without guns, squads at target practice. The pride of doing a thing with zest and doing it right is in the carriage of each high-held head, of each pair of straight shoulders.

An interval.

Again the parade ground is alive with youth. Mass athletics. The tennis courts show flying, leaping figures. Out there they are practicing lacrosse. This group is trying at making a winning getaway for future track use. Another group concentrates on the great national game, baseball. At the far side, eager forms destined to win glory on the football field are trying out. One group is building up its biceps by raising and lowering itself on the green velvet carpet of outdoors.

Over on the hotel veranda, a fortunate chap in the immaculate whites of the season twirls his visored cap and chats, consciously, with one who is obviously a girl from home. There a few strollers through the shady paths which lead toward the shimmering waters of the river.

Romance and health and education! Thus does Opportunity offer the allure of her smile to any American youth who has the courage to claim her.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

THE CLOUD DANCE

I haven't told you yet about the dance the fairies gave at the top of Mountain Peak for their friends, the clouds.

So I must tell you about it at once.

The fairies had had such a good time at the dance the clouds had given that they wanted to make theirs a huge success, too.

It was a cool day, and Mr. Sun was shining hard while Mr. Wind was having an argument with him as to whether it was a warm day or not.

They almost had a quarrel about it, and then they overheard some grown-up say:

"It's warm in the sun today, but otherwise it's really quite cold, for the wind has a sharpness to it."

So that settled the dispute, for then they both knew they were right.

Well, it was just the sort of a day the fairies wanted for their dance.

The sky was the most beautiful shade of blue, and the clouds came along to the party in fine array—which means fine feathers or fine clothes.

You know how sometimes you've seen the clouds go so quickly along you've wondered where they were bound for.

Well, usually when they're hurrying like that, on a cool day when the sky is a very deep blue, more than likely they are on their way to a dance on Mountain Peak which the fairies are giving.

The Clouds Came Dancing.

But this afternoon the fairies had a special treat for the clouds.

In the first place, Mountain Peak wore his very finest blue cap, which he only wears on very important occasions, and in the second place the fairies did their mountain dance.

They flew from one little peak to another, and then they flew about in groups, carrying with them garlands of beautiful honeysuckles and ivy vines.

The clouds were delighted and began tearing about in glee. Then Mr. Sun was so excited that he came over to see the fairies dance, too.

And he went behind one of the clouds, so that the earth-people said it was surely going to rain.

And, of course, Mr. Wind flew about having the gayest sort of a time.

And, too, he was pleased, for he had won the dispute with Mr. Sun.

Now it certainly was a very cool day for the earth-people when Mr. Sun was so lazy and had to watch parties!

But Mr. Sun didn't care. He had to have some fun, too. And surely he deserves to have fun.

As for the clouds and the little fairies, they had the jolliest, best sort of a time, and just before it was time for the clouds to leave, all the little gnomes who lived in Mountain Peak came out and did their tricks.

Bobby's Watch

When Bobby celebrated his sixth birthday he was given a splendid watch, which, regardless of quality or accuracy, possessed a loud tick.

Naturally Bobby was very proud of it, and strolled about amongst his friends, displaying it.

Towards the end of the week everyone in the neighborhood had heard of Bobby's watch, and had seen him regarding it gravely, but the climax came when his little cousin Betty asked him the time.

Bobby regarded the watch thoughtfully a moment, then replied slowly: "It's two inches to four."

Papa Was Too Slow

Billy—Papa, are caterpillars good to eat?

Father—Oh, don't talk about such things at the table.

Mother (getting curious)—Billy, why did you ask that?

Billy—I just saw one on papa's lettuce but it's gone now.—Children, The Magazine for Parents.

Outran Himself

Bobbie had taken upon himself the responsibility of opening the barnyard gate for his father. One day he ran so fast in his excitement, that he ran into the gate and hurt his nose.

Upon being asked what was the trouble, he replied, "I thought I wasn't there, but I was."

Poisonous in Part

A word of warning: Many flowers are poisonous or semi-poisonous. Those of the daffodil, for instance, are powerfully emetic. It is not generally understood that many plants may be poisonous in one part. A striking example is the rhubarb, where only an inch or two at the top of the stem lies between the poisonous leaf and delicious stalk.

Hoodoo Day

George Bernard Shaw was ridiculing the American marriage system, or rather the ease with which divorces are obtained here.

"I was at a dinner here in London," he scoffed, "when I heard an American girl and a young Enblish chap discussing their approaching marriage.

"'But don't you think that being married on a Friday might be unlucky?' the Englishman asked. To which the American girl replied:

"'That's so! You wouldn't be able to get a divorce before Monday.'"

Molding Rubber

The bureau of standards says that rubber is not poured into molds in a molten condition, but is molded in steam-heated presses, the temperature of the molds being high enough to cause the rubber to become plastic and assume the shape of the mold. Hard rubber contains at least 21 per cent of combined sulphur. Vulcanization must therefore be prolonged and the rubber compound must contain sufficient sulphur to produce the grade of hard rubber desired.

Gave Jefferson Idea

Thomas Jefferson was the first President to conceive the idea of an exploration of the country reaching to the Pacific coast. He says in his autobiography that he obtained the inspiration from John Ledyard, a young New England sailor, in 1786.

Flyosan still killing flies and mosquitoes by the millions

ARE you still fighting flies and mosquitoes by swatting them one at a time? Or do you use Flyosan—original and best liquid spray (non-poisonous)—which wipes them out by the wholesale?

Mosquitoes and the common house-fly, the deadliest pests that invade the home, are loaded with millions of disease germs.

"Swatting" them scatters these deadly germs into the air which you and your family breathe.

Flyosan floats through your rooms. It destroys all these germs as well as all the flies and mosquitoes which carry them.

Here is the right insecticide for each insect:

FLYOSAN, Liquid Spray — kills flies and mosquitoes.

PETERMAN'S ANT FOOD — exterminates ants.

PETERMAN'S DISCOVERY, Liquid — exterminates bed-bugs.

PETERMAN'S ROACH FOOD—exterminates that cockroach army.

PETERMAN'S MOTH FOOD — protects against moths.

You must have a specific insecticide for each insect. No single insecticide will exterminate them all. We have had nearly 50 years' experience. We know that is true.

Peterman's has the right insecticide for each insect. On sale wherever drugs are sold.

Less Hay on Cattle Menu

THERE will be less hay on the livestock menu this year, due to the short hay crop, says the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. Farmers will produce only 78,900,000 tons, because of the unfavorable weather. Last year they produced 87,000,000 tons, and the five-year average crop is 90,000,000 tons, the Foundation points out. It is true that there are fewer live stock to consume this year's hay crop. Most of the crop is eaten by cattle. Horses and sheep also require large quantities. This year farmers devoted 59,080,000 acres to tame hay crops, such as alfalfa, clover, timothy and mixed crops. This is a slight reduction from last year's acreage. This is expected to yield 1.34 tons per acre, a smaller yield than usual.

White Elephant Coming With Circus

Sacred Animal Making Only American Tour with Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Shows

Hailed as the "greatest feature of all time," Pawah, the world-famed sacred white elephant of Burma is to be presented in the menagerie of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows when the big circus exhibits at San Diego Thursday, September 15.

Pawah is the first of his kind to be found in more than three hundred years and the only genuine sacred white elephant ever brought to America. He is accompanied by his supreme keeper, Dr. S. D. Po Min, and attended by a retinue of fourteen native Burmese. The present is Pawah's only season in America, the Ringling Brothers being under bond to return him to Burma at the close of the tour.

Pawah is of those rare elephants that the Buddhists of today and centuries past have worshipped in the belief that in their huge bulk reposes the soul of Buddha. And certainly he is as different from those elephants with which the public is familiar as day is from night. His eyes are milk white, set with sparkling pupils. His skin is soft and pliable. To quote quote the French authority, M. Dussard, he is "as gentle as a kitten and as beautiful as a Greek statue."

The bringing of the white elephant to America is in furtherance of the Ringling policy of constant enlargement. The arenic portion of this season's circus introduces five rings in place of the usual three. The big show's personnel numbers more than sixteen hundred people, and nine hundred horses. A hundred double-length railway cars are required to transport its ten thousand marvels, plus a special Pullman for Pawah and his attendants.

BAN RAISED ON CASTOR BEAN TREE

A proposed ordinance prohibiting the planting or maintenance of the castor bean tree in San Diego was voted down by the city council this week on motion of Councilman Bruschi, who insisted that the castor bean is a beautiful shrub, growing in profusion in all sections of the city, and that its eradication would be a mistake. Some time ago, the health board asked the council to put the ban on the castor beans, because a couple of small boys were made sick from eating them.
